About the Area:

New Orleans is the historical city devastated by Hurricane Katrina in August, 2005. Since those days, New Orleans has struggled rebuilding. The mass exodus still impacts the city.

Lodging Info/Meals:

We will be enjoying the wonderful hospitality of MissionLab and New Orleans Baptist Seminary for the duration of our trip. Our group will be staying on campus as well as eating all of our meals there. Bring your bedding or sleeping bags and towels. Each individual must bring a water container that they can carry with them at all times.

Transportation: Ground: We will be departing the SpringWell Church parking lot at 6:00 AM on Sunday, July 18, 2010. Teams will travel in groups of 12 in a 15 passenger van with the back seat removed for luggage storage.

Projects:

Although our official itinerary will not be finalized until about 30 days prior to arrival, we can be certain that we will be serving the communities of New Orleans through a number of servant–evangelism projects. There are opportunities to participate with Children’s Ministries, a Day–Camp, music ministry, and construction projects. We will also partner with a church plant known as Vintage Church. Our philosophy through all of this will be simple: See A Need, Meet A Need.

SpringWell Missions Ministry Guidelines

1. Show respect for all people in leadership and authority in action and speech. Pray for the leaders and give them encouragement. Understand that they have many responsibilities and seek to serve them in any way possible.
2. This is a group mission trip. Please remember not to cut yourself off from the group. Make a real commitment to unity, encouragement, and brotherly love. Physically separating yourself from the group would not be a good idea either; you will not enjoy being lost in a devastated area.
3. We may be serving in some ways that you have never done before...be open to everything.
4. Please remember to dress modestly while on campus and during service projects. Appropriate dress will be determined by the type of work on any given day. No open toed shoes will be allowed during any work projects, period.
5. Christian friendship should be the aim of ALL relationships. The general principle here is no romantic behavior. This applies to those coming with their "special someone." Guard yourself and others and keep your focus on the purpose of the trip.
6. Thou shalt not whine. Be content in all circumstances (Phil.4:12). If you feel a need to complain or pout, do not. Remember to love, respect, and lie to your face!
7. Do not create division. Our ministry relationships can only be as effective as our relationships between each other. Edify and encourage at all times.
8. Serve (it is kind of the whole point of the experience). Serve each other, the leaders, and those we meet along the way without holding back. See a need, meet a need.
9. Be like Christ in your attitude. Demonstrate the love, joy, peace and compassion of Jesus within the team and those in the surrounding communities.
10. Stay together! When walking in groups during the trip (especially in heavily crowded areas), keep up. Do not straggle and do not stop for ice cream. Make sure there is always 1 or 2 guys in any group.
11. Take the initiative to grow. Maintain and enhance your quiet times and Bible study during this experience. This trip can be the beginning of a life-long change in your personal discipline, but it will only be what you choose to make it.
12. Get involved. Choose to participate and be a part of what is going on, not to stand around and do nothing. Standing on the sidelines is only a waste of your time and money, not ours.

Bringing personal electronic equipment such as cell phones, game devices, iPods, etc. is allowed but highly discouraged. If you don't have it, you can't lose it.

Trip Participant Only: I have read the foregoing, understand the rules of conduct for participants, and will abide by them as well as the directions of the leadership of the activity.

SpringWell Missions

Fund Raising Policy

When making a decision to participate on a mission trip, one of the first questions you may be asking is: Will the church be offering fund raising opportunities? In short, the answer is no. Too often, churches put a great deal of pressure on the congregation to help fund trips. With tithes, offerings, and already pledged missions giving, we would be over-burdening our people.

A mission trip is a journey of faith. This is why we ask each person to be individually responsible for raising their own funds. If you are fortunate enough to have the money in savings and can pay for the trip, praise God. If you are going to need to raise funds, we suggest you focus on ways you can find support.

The most successful way to raise money for your trip is to send a letter to everyone you know. Use your families Christmas card list to get the addresses of the friends you go to school or work with.

If once you meet others who are attending the same trip and you want to work together on some creative fund raising, we whole-heartily support you. A small group of you might want to have a car wash, do a bake sale or find odd jobs. If you use these methods, we suggest connecting with the community and not focusing on the church. These types of fundraisers would be the individual's responsibility and not be "ran" by the church. Let God use the people around you to fund His desire for you to be on the mission field.

January 3, 2010

Dear Friends,

I am excited to let you know about a great opportunity that I have this summer to participate in a mission trip to New Orleans from July 18 - 24, 2010. Our group will be serving throughout the city by volunteering in various work projects. The reason why I am writing is to ask you to prayerfully consider helping our team financially. We have at this time about thirty attending this trip. Our total budget is approximately $16,500.00. This includes travel, lodging, meals, and administrative costs.

With a total need of about $550 per person, would you be willing to invest $25, $50, $100, or any amount God would lead you to give to help our team be a part of this life changing outreach to the people of New Orleans? You may want to break down your gift by the day. Each day will cost just about $80. With the trip being seven days long, you may choose to sponsor one day, two days, or even the whole week.

Your gift will be tax deductible and should be made out to SpringWell Church. Please indicate on your check that the contribution is for Mission New Orleans and include my name. For your convenience, I am enclosing a self-addressed envelope. Our first deadline for receiving funds is March 15, 2010.

Please know it is not our desire to pressure you in any way. If you are unable to help us at this time, we understand. Simply knowing you are praying for us will be a great encouragement.

If you have any questions regarding this outreach, I would be more than happy to discuss them with you. Thank you in advance for your support.

Sincerely,
Your Name
